

Your church may have portable objects that require special protection and display. A display case can be a good solution.

But, as a place of worship, you need to balance the long-term protection of your objects against the special function and historic character of your church building.

We can help you and your professional adviser deal with the care of your collection.

Download our guidance

Rosie Kliskey

Source URL: <https://www.churchofengland.org/resources/churchcare/advice-and-guidance-church-buildings/display-cases>