The Women's Continuing Ministerial Education Trust (WCMET) exists to support the ministerial development of women in the Church of England and the Scottish Episcopal Church. We administer the provision of grants to female clergy, female accredited lay workers, and religious sisters in England and Scotland in need of financial support for their continuing training.

Retreats and Sabbaticals will not normally be considered, however, wherever possible, funding towards the cost of the fees will be awarded. Initial Ministerial Education courses are not part of the Trust's remit and funding towards such ventures will be given only in exceptional circumstances.

Register your interest in WCMET funding to support your training below. Before applying, we encourage you to read the guidance notes to learn more about who can apply, what areas the grants cover and the application process. If you are, for any reason, unable to complete the form, please contact wcmet@churchofengland.org.

Ministry Development

The Ministry Development team provides research, consultancy and expertise to support dioceses and theological education institutions in fostering a culture of wellbeing and lifelong learning for their ministers.

Developing lay ministries

We want to encourage the church to release the gifts of ministry among all its members, especially those who serve and lead in different contexts.
