

After a funeral

Immediately after a funeral, you'll be with your family and friends. But as the days and weeks go by, the church will also be there for you. Your church can support you in lots of ways, even if the funeral did not take place where you live.

If someone you know and love has died, a funeral led by a Church of England minister can be held in church, in a churchyard, by a graveside, or at a crematorium. The minister will be there to support you every step of the way. If you're unable to attend, follow this link for more support.

An open booklet showing an order of service for a funeral or memorial service

image not found or type unknown

Special Services

Find out about types of services that may help after a funeral.

A pathway that leads through a canopy of trees into a clearing of open fields beyond.

image not found or type unknown

The journey through grief

Help and guidance for what grief might be like.

A row of mature people in deep discussion.

image not found or type unknown

Big questions?

Where to find help when we have questions after loss.

Facing death and mortality

Some helpful thoughts on facing death as a fact of life.

It's good to talk

A helpful way to start talking about death and dying.

Light a candle

Light an online candle to help you remember someone, and to pray.

Source URL: <https://www.churchofengland.org/life-events/funerals/after-funeral>