

Welcome to the blog site for fresh expressions in the Church of England.

Here you will find news, articles, and other resources that explore the latest thinking and practice around fresh expressions of church.

Sort by

Apply

1.

What do we mean when we say fresh expressions are 'ecclesial'?

13/04/2022

Missiologist, theologian, innovator and writer Mike Moynagh explains how a fresh expression is ecclesial because we prayerfully hope that God will enable it

2.

What do we mean when we say Fresh Expressions are 'formational'?

06/12/2021

ational nature of fresh expressions.

3.

Out of small acorns, Derwent Oak grew

11/06/2021

Beth Honey is Pioneer Minister in the Derwent Ward of Derby Diocese and Co-leader of a growing fresh expressions called Derwent Oak. Here she describes extend right across the local context.

4.

What do we mean when we say fresh expressions are 'contextual'?

21/05/2021

This month, ordained Pioneer and Mission PhD researcher Ian Mobsby explores the importance of fresh expressions being 'contextual' and how the 5.

Could now be the moment for 'Forest' churches to grow?

18/03/2021

Environmental Engagement Officer in the Gloucester Diocese, Cate Williams, explains why Forest Church could see growth during and beyond the Covid-19

6.

The language we use

13/08/2020

A blog by Heather Cracknell, Head of Development for Fresh Expressions in the Church of England, reflecting on the language we use.

2 min read

---

Source URL: <https://www.churchofengland.org/about/fresh-expressions/fresh-expressions-blog>