

Benjamin Brett, a student at Trinity Church of England High School in Manchester, explains how the Christian ethos of the secondary school encourages students of all faiths and none to develop their understanding of the world through interaction with others.

His faith influences his relationships with friends, as it becomes about wanting the best for them. His friends of other faiths have led him to explore and investigate his Christian faith. The school teaches them to embrace differences in order to better understand the world.

You can find out more about Trinity Church of England High School by visiting their website.

---

Source URL: <https://www.churchofengland.org/our-faith/faith-action/faith-action-videos/learning-be-christian-school>