

An introduction to the commercial properties available in Connaught Village and on the wider Hyde Park Estate.

The Church Commissioners own the freehold of approximately 100 commercial units on the Hyde Park Estate, comprising a mixture of office, retail and leisure accommodation.

You will find Hyde Park's premier retail quarter, Connaught Village, tucked away behind Georgian squares, between Bayswater and Marble Arch, a short walk from Hyde Park and not much more than a stroll from Oxford Street. Connaught Village offers a smart enclave of exclusive shops providing general and specialist retail, leisure and lifestyle offers whilst also offering an oasis of calm away from the hustle and bustle of London's West End.

Visitors to the area might choose to while away the hours with the papers and a cappuccino in one of the Village's independent cafes, shop in one of the specialist boutiques, choose to indulge in a special afternoon tea at Cocomaya or dine at one of the quality food options such as the Argentine restaurant, Casa Malevo.

The Village offering is reinforced by a number of local community services meeting the needs of the Hyde Park Estate residents. These include the doctors' surgery and dental practice, located on Connaught Square and Stanhope Place and the classic car garage on Portsea Mews.
