

Vicar, Diocese of St Edmundsbury and Ipswich

My name is Robert Otule. I am vicar of All Saints Church, Newmarket, having previously being an assistant curate at St. John's Church in Stratford in the Diocese of Chelmsford.

I am originally from Uganda and have lived in the UK for over 35 years. My journey to ordination has not been the most straightforward or easy route however, God eventually 'collared' me and completely transformed my life.

I love watching movies and documentaries and have tried my hand at golf.

I have a passion for helping people find their place of service in God's kingdom and that is why I put myself forward to help mentor people along their journey of discernment.

I am available most days during the week and depending upon agreed conversations would be happy to meet during working hours.

I look forward to meeting those in this incredible journey of faith and obedience to God's call upon their lives. God Bless.
