

Rev Canon Dr Anderson Jeremiah has been appointed as the next Bishop of Edmonton, covering the London Boroughs of Camden, Barnet, Enfield and Haringey, it has been announced.

Dr Jeremiah is currently Associate Dean (Equality, Diversity, Inclusion and People) in the Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences, Lancaster University, and Associate Priest at St Paul's Scotforth, in the Diocese of Blackburn.

He will formally take up his post in Spring 2024 and will join the College of Bishops in the Diocese of London, taking responsibility for the racial justice portfolio.

The Bishop of London, Sarah Mullally, welcomed the new appointment by saying: "Today's announcement is a blessing for the Church in North London, which I am sure will thrive under Anderson's leadership and ministry."
