Booklet: Gifts of Faith, Hope and Love

This booklet is aimed at individuals who are thinking about leaving a gift in their will. It outlines why legacies and will writing are important, as well as the different ways a legacy can be left to the church - at a local, regional or national level. It provides both spiritual and practical information on how to include a gift in a will and comes with an insert to help someone prepare to visit their solicitor or will writer.

Churches will find it helpful to make copies of this booklet available at the back of church for general use, and to have a small stock in the church office, in case an individual requests a copy directly.
