

LINCOLN
SCHOOL OF THEOLOGY

Inter-faith Weekend.
6 – 8 March 2015

שלום

Peace

Welcome to the Inter-faith weekend. We are blessed to welcome among us Rabbi Mark Solomon, the Interfaith Consultant for Liberal Judaism and Fiona Hulbert, representing the Council of Christians and Jews (CCJ); both from London. We also welcome back the Rev'd. Sue Evans, and welcome for the first time her husband, the Rev'd. Tom Broadbent, formerly chair of CCJ in Manchester. On Saturday evening we shall also be welcoming representatives from other faith groups in Lincoln, for the inter-faith conversation. We are deeply grateful to them all for making the time to join us.

Reader candidates are invited to join Ordinands on Saturday and a significant number are able to do so. If that's you, then a very warm welcome to you too.

On Sunday morning we shall be joining the congregation at St Swithin's for their Communion service. If you are a moderately traditional Anglican you may find St Swithin's a little unfamiliar. Cameron Watt has been on placement there and is better placed to answer any questions you may have than anyone else, so do please ask him anything which may be on your minds.

Apart from all this the weekend will follow the usual pattern.

This is an exciting opportunity and I am sure we will all grow through the experience.

Programme

Friday 6th March

- 5.00 Arrive
- 6.30 Supper
- 7.30 First Session
- 9.00 Night Prayer

Saturday 7th March

- 7.30 Morning Prayer (Cathedral)
- 8.00 Breakfast
- 9.30 Meditation
- 10.00 Second Session
- 11.15 Coffee
- 11.30 Third Session
- 12.45 Lunch
- 1.30 Fourth Session
- 2.45 Tea
- 3.00 Fifth Session
- 4.15 Break
- 6.30 Supper
- 7.30 Inter-faith Conversation
- 9.00 Epilogue

Sunday 8th March

- 7.30 Morning Prayer (EKH)
- 8.00 Breakfast
- 9.00 Sixth Session
- 10.30 Eucharist (St Swithin's)
- 12.30 Lunch and Depart