FOREWORD

GENERAL

As promised in the last edition, this booklet contains the membership and financial figures for 1982 resulting from the last of the biennial full collections of returns from parishes. For 1983 onwards, an annual sampling scheme has been implemented. It is expected that this will enable diocesan figures to be published each year, but it will not increase (and in some cases will reduce) the number of occasions on which parishes will be approached for this information.

CLERGY

During 1983, the number of full-time stipendiary clergy in the dioceses increased by 18 from 10,789 to 10,807. Unfortunately, all the available evidence shows that the increase may only be temporary and due to a number of special factors. A most important determinant of future clergy numbers is the number of ordination candidates recommended or conditionally recommended for training for the stipendiary ministry. As Table 12A shows, these have dropped from 404 in 1980 to 303 in 1983. As in past years, numbers may in due course be increased by the transfer of some candidates from the non-stipendiary ministry. Candidates for the latter have also shown a reduction, from 121 in 1980 to 87 in 1983.

DEACONESSES AND LAY WORKERS

The customary statistics on ordination candidates have been augmented by similar tables relating to deaconesses and lay workers. Problems of comparability between sets of annual statistics for deaconesses and lay workers in diocesan and parochial posts are still with us, but are steadily being resolved.

MEMBERSHIP

Most membership indicators have fallen slightly since 1980, the year in which full figures were last produced. Communicants on a normal Sunday have shown a drop of 2.5%. Usual Sunday attendances have fallen by 2.8%, whilst electoral rolls remain virtually static. Easter and Christmas communicants have both decreased, by 3.3% and 6.6% respectively. After adjustment to the live birth rate, infant baptisms are down by about 5%. Other baptisms show a reduction of 8%. There is evidence that some of these membership figures are being affected to some extent by their increased use as 'potential factors' in diocesan quota assessments.

FINANCE

The financial figures are generally encouraging. (The following percentage changes in money are in real terms, i.e. adjusted for inflation). The most dramatic change is in net covenanted giving, which since 1980 has increased by over 31%. In the same period, uncovenanted giving dropped by just over 2%. The net result is that the two combined (i.e. planned giving) have shown an increase of nearly 17%, although the total number of people giving by these two methods has fallen by 2% in the period. Collections have failed to keep up with inflation, but both direct giving (which excludes tax refunds on covenants) and total voluntary income (which includes them) are up by 8%, primarily because of the large rise in covenanted giving.

On the expenditure side, the biggest increase has predictably been in the Ministry and Diocese section, which includes stipends, parsonage and general quotas and contributions. This has shown an increase of over 25%. Perhaps as a result, charitable giving through Parochial Church Councils has not quite kept pace with inflation.

Definitions

In the tables and graphs relating to parish finance, components of income and expenditure are defined as follows:—

Income

Total planned giving	= net covenants and uncovenanted planned giving.
Total direct giving	= planned giving plus church collections and boxes.
Total voluntary income	= direct giving, plus income tax on covenants, net proceeds from gift days, fetes and bazaars, net profit from magazines and bookstalls, sundry donations.
Total ordinary income	= voluntary income plus fees, dividends and interest, net surplus on church halls and property, trust income, grants.
Extraordinary income	= donations and appeals for special capital purposes, non-recurring grants, legacies and bequests, insurance claims, loans and transfers from reserves.

Expenditure

Ministry and diocese	= payments towards clergy and layworkers' stipends, housing, and working expenses; diocesan quota/share and other diocesan payments.
Church and services	= heating, lighting, cleaning, insurance, minor repairs; upkeep of services, books, music, robes; churchyard; salaries and wages.
Other ordinary parish expenditure	= net deficiency on church halls and property; church day and Sunday schools; Christian stewardship; sick and poor; net loss on magazines and bookstalls; administration, printing, stationery, postage, sundries.
Payments outside the parish	= overseas missions, home missions, other church societies and organisations, other charities.
Extraordinary expenditure	= new buildings and major repairs—church and installations, church halls, clergy houses; initial cost of a Christian stewardship campaign; repayment of loans; transfers to reserves.

Please note that many figures in this booklet from Table 16 onwards have been rounded, and that in general totals, percentages and averages were calculated before rounding. Hence row and column totals will not always agree exactly with the sum of the stated amounts.

DEPLOYMENT OF THE CLERGY

The 'Sheffield' formula

The 'Sheffield' formula for the deployment of the clergy was devised by a Working Group appointed by the House of Bishops and under the chairmanship of the then Bishop of Sheffield. It was first published in the Group's report in May 1974 (GS 205). The House considered the report and in January 1975 carried motions which accepted the broad principles on which the report was based and the formula which it proposed should be used to calculate each diocese's share of the available ordained manpower. The intention was to enable the Church, over a period of years, to use the manpower that was available in the most effective way possible, and in a manner which would ensure fairer shares as between dioceses than the existing distribution, based on historical patterns rather than present needs, provided. The formula has since been reviewed but not changed — see 'The Church's Ministry — A survey' (GS 459, November 1980) and 'The Deployment of the Stipendiary Clergy' (GS 511, December 1981).

The formula apportions the total number of full-time, stipendiary clergy available to the 43 dioceses (Europe, because of the special nature of its chaplaincies, is not included) on the basis of four factors, weighted as shown:

Diocesan population (8)	to reflect the number of persons for whom a pastoral responsibility is assumed;
Diocesan area (1)	to reflect the larger distances to be covered in rural dioceses;
Electoral roll numbers (3)	to reflect the number of Church members to be cared for;
Number of churches (3)	to reflect the number of services in different churches that need to be provided.

Shares under the formula are calculated twice a year from figures supplied by the Church Commissioners. The latest available statistics are always used.

Additionally, predictions of future clergy numbers, and each diocese's share, are prepared from time to time. These are based on known trends in retirements, resignations and deaths in service, together with assumptions on the future level of ordinands and others entering the diocesan framework.

The shares yielded by the 'Sheffield' formula are therefore targets towards which dioceses should work. A broad gauge of the success of this policy is shown in the table below. It should however be emphasised that the targets are moving ones: they depend not only on the total number of men available (or, in the case of predictions, the validity of the trends and assumptions) but also on the relative changes in dioceses' populations and other relevant statistics.

Year	Total number of diocesan full-time stipendiary clergy	Number of dioceses

2.*In January 1985 the Archdeaconry of Croydon is due to be transferred from Canterbury to Southwark Diocese.

Forces, prisons, hospitals, colleges and schools; officials of Church and secular charitable organisations; religious communities; theological colleges; universities, overseas missions etc.

NOTES:

- Unbracketed figures relate to stipendiary deaconesses, lay workers and Church Army Officers. Bracketed figures denote the additional numbers of non-stipendiary personnel.
- The figures are the result of matching individual names with posts rather than, as previously, relying on purely numerical diocesan returns. They are not therefore comparable with previously-published figures. In particular, figures in column 5 are confined to accredited lay workers, and do not include other diocesan lay staff (e.g. youth or children's advisers)
- For stipendiary deaconesses and lay workers (excluding Church Army), as agreed by the House of Bishops in 1982.
- The Church Army figures include all officers resident in the dioceses concerned; they are not all necessarily in the employment of the diocese; they may for example be engaged in Church Army social work. The figures for Southwark include staff of the Church Army training college and Church Army Headquarters.

Notes on Tables -

1. Population figures in these tables are taken from information provided by the Office of Population Censuses and Surveys. Other statistics have been evaluated from the parish returns of membership and finance.

*2. The figures for 1978 and later years in columns 3 to 5 of Table 20 are not directly comparable with those of previous years, because from 1978 the returns have specified infant baptisms as those under one year of age in order to relate more realistically to live births.

3. Figures for cathedrals and their daughter churches are included only in Tables 20 to 22.

+ 4. Age-specific population figures for 1982 were not available at the time of going to press.
