Summary

This report presents information about worship and other activities taking place in Church of England cathedrals from 1st January to 31st December 2018. Data are collected from all 42 mainland Church of England cathedrals, from Westminster Abbey and (for the first time) from Peel Cathedral on the Isle of Man (Diocese of Sodor and Man), through an annual cathedral statistics survey. Among other things, the survey asks about attendance at Sunday and midweek services; Easter and Christmas services; school visits; baptisms, marriages, and funerals; musical activities and volunteering. For reference, the survey form and guidance notes can be found in Appendix 2.

Worship attendance (page 7)

- A total of 36,700 people per week (81% adults and 19% children aged under 16) were reported attending usual cathedral services in 2018, slightly down on 2017 (37,000). Attendance grew 17% in the period 2008 to 2013 but has remained basically flat since then.
- Weekly attendance at usual cathedral services is split fairly evenly between Sunday (49.3%) and midweek (50.7%) services. Sunday and midweek attendance have been similar to each other since 2013.
- Total annual attendance at additional regular services (i.e. not necessarily weekly but conducted at least once a month - including fresh expressions of Church and regular schools services) was 592,000 people in 2018, of whom 60% (just over 341,300 people) were attending regular schools services.
- More than 930,000 people were reported at 2,700 specially arranged services and events in 2018. Just under 1.4 million people were reported at 5,400 public / civic events held in cathedrals in 2018.

Festival attendance (page 12)

- Total attendance reported at Easter services at cathedrals in 2018 was 58,000 with just under half of these (47%) taking communion; attendance in 2018 was 18% higher than in 2008. Attendance during Holy Week (from Palm Sunday to Good Friday) was 95,000, 7% higher than in 2014, when it was first reported.
- Total reported Christmas attendance was 133,000 in 2018, second only to 2017 (135,000), which was the highest since it was first reported in 2000. Nearly a quarter (25%) of attendees in 2018 took communion. Services during Advent (including carol services, concerts, nativity plays, and so on) had a reported attendance of 617,000 in 2018, a decrease of 9% from 631,000 in 2014 when it was first reported.

Visitors (page 16)

- Almost 10 million people visited cathedrals in 2018, with 33% of these paying / donating for entry. A further 1.2 million visited Westminster Abbey, where 99% of visitors paid / donated for entry.

Acknowledgements

This report contains information provided by the Head Vergers, Cathedral Administrators and the Deans, to whom we are grateful. Every Church of England mainland cathedral and Peel Cathedral (Isle of Man) contributed to this exercise and we are pleased to be able also to include figures from Westminster Abbey, to provide a more complete picture of cathedral ministry in England today.

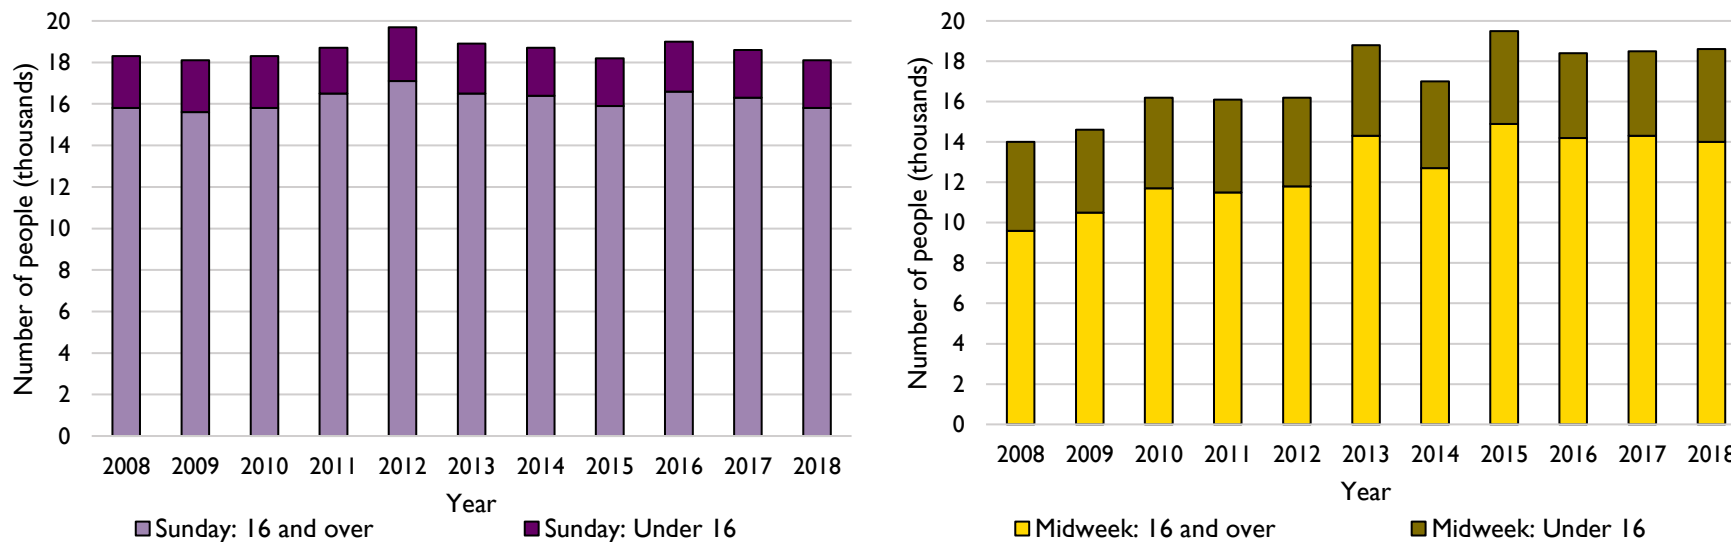

Regular Attendance

Sunday and Midweek Attendance

Figure 1 and Figure 2 show the total number of people reported, per week, at all 42 Church of England mainland cathedrals at services on the weekly calendar in a 'normal' week. A 'normal' week refers to those weeks that are not major festivals or contained in a peak holiday period, and that do not include special events or services.

Data are separated into Sunday and midweek attendance, where the midweek count only includes services held Monday to Saturday and excludes Sunday services. People attending more than one service on the same day or in the same week were, wherever possible, only counted once no matter how many services they attended.

Figure 1: Sunday and Midweek attendance (per week) at Church of England cathedrals, 2008-2018

In 2018, a weekly total of 36,700 people (of whom 81% were adults and 19% were children) were reported at cathedral services; this is an increase of 14% from 2008. Sunday attendance has remained basically flat while attendance at midweek services has grown by 34% over the decade, mostly in the period 2008 to 2013.

Figure 2: Sunday and midweek attendance (per week) at Church of England cathedrals, 1995-2018¹

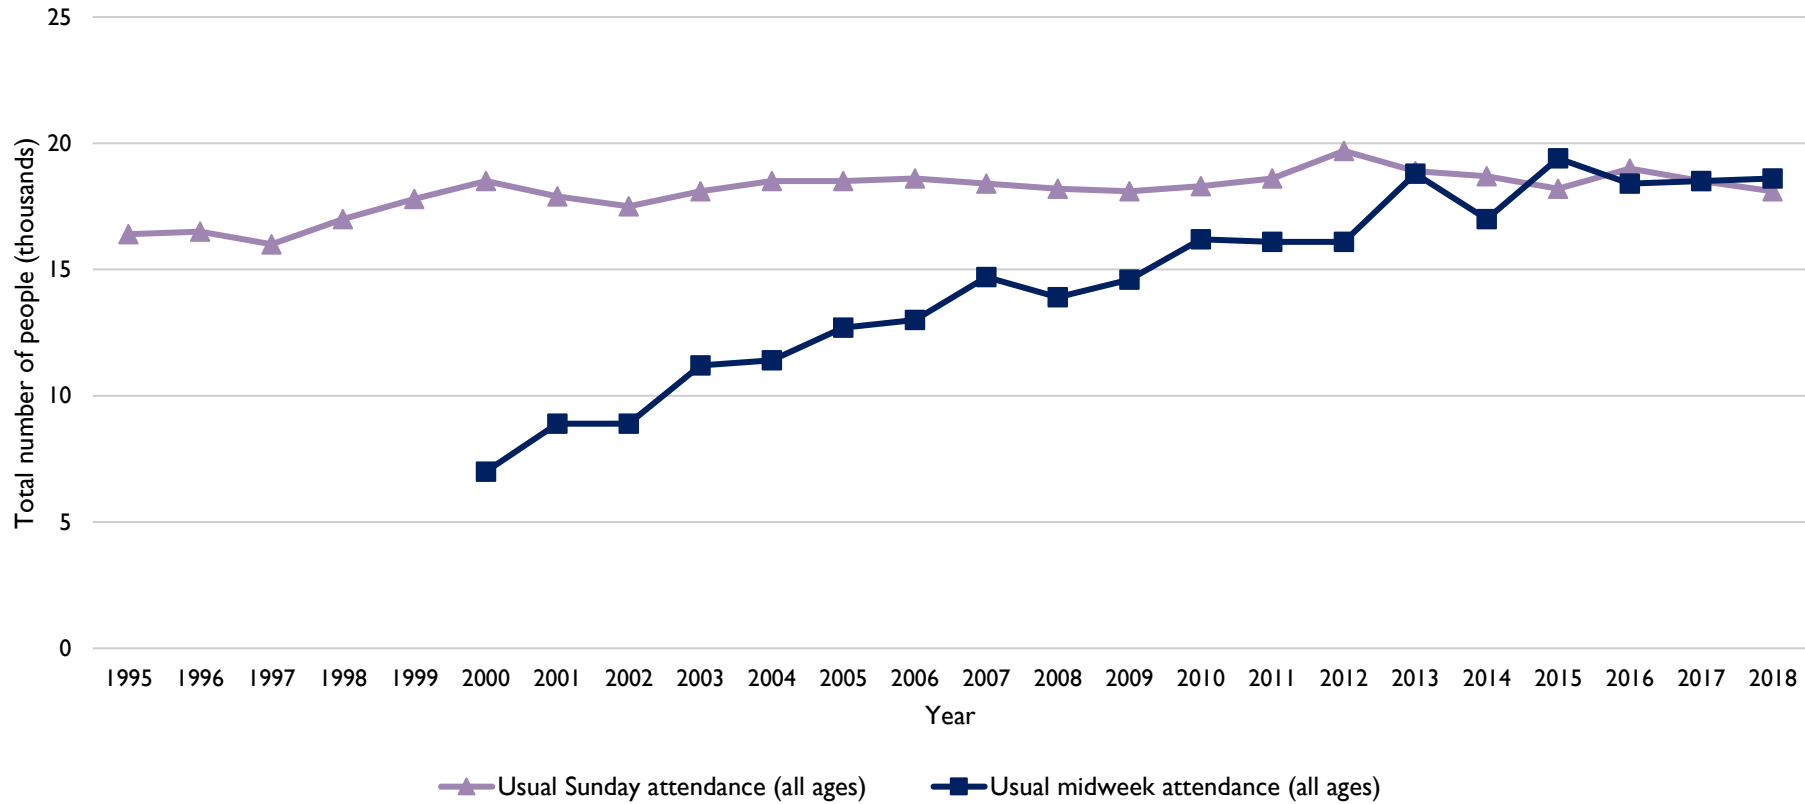

Figure 2 shows weekly attendance at Sunday and midweek services over a longer timeframe, illustrating the rise in attendance at midweek services from 7,000 in 2000 (when first reported) to a peak of 19,400 in 2015, since when it has remained basically stable.

Additional Regular Services

Figure 3 shows the total reported annual attendance for 2018 at ‘regular’ services. These refer to additional services that happen at least once a month but not necessarily weekly and are not part of the weekly pattern of services (i.e. those included in Figure 1).

Data are shown in three categories – regular fresh expressions of Church (and other community services), regular services for schools and all other regular services. A fresh expression of Church is a form of church established primarily for the benefit of people who are not yet “members” of any church. Further information about identifying fresh expressions of Church is available here: <http://www.freshexpressions.org.uk>. Data for fresh expressions of Church are also shown in Figure 3b, to show the change between years more clearly.

Throughout 2018, 592,000 people were reported across the year at regular services conducted at least once a month (including fresh expressions of Church and schools services), as shown in Figure 3. Of these, three fifths (60%) were reported at regular school services, equating to 341,300 people which was double the figure in 2013 (170,700), when it was first reported.

Those reported at fresh expressions of Church has fallen by 48% from 13,800 in 2016 to 6,600 in 2018, almost entirely due to two cathedrals holding significantly fewer fresh expressions of Church services in 2017 and 2018 than in previous years – this drop is evident in Figure 3b.

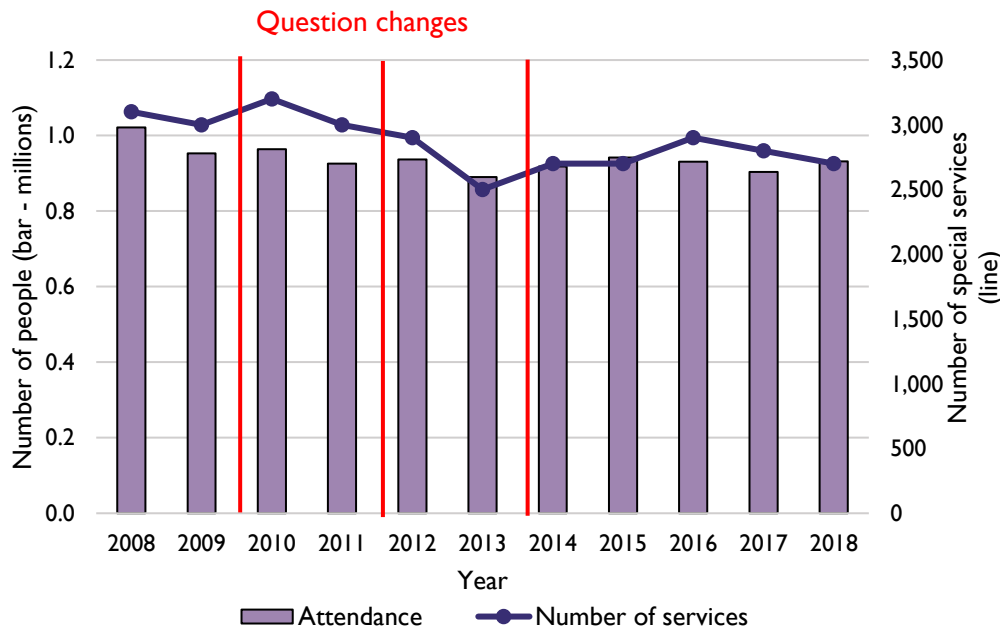

² The wording of the question asking about regular services was changed in 2013 to ensure the weekly pattern of services was not included. This resulted in a reduced total, hence only data for 2013 onwards are shown in Figure 3.

Special Event Attendance

Specially arranged services are not included in average weekly attendance, shown in Figure 1, or the total annual attendance for regular services, shown in Figure 3, as they are not part of the regular pattern of services and therefore they are included separately in this section.

Figure 4 shows the total number of people reported annually at ‘specially arranged services’, which includes diocesan or episcopal services (such as annual festivals / diocesan services), irregular services for schools (for example, an end of term / year service), other special services (excluding memorials) and services away from the cathedral building.

Figure 4: Annual number of and total annual attendance at specially arranged services at Church of England cathedrals, 2008-2018³

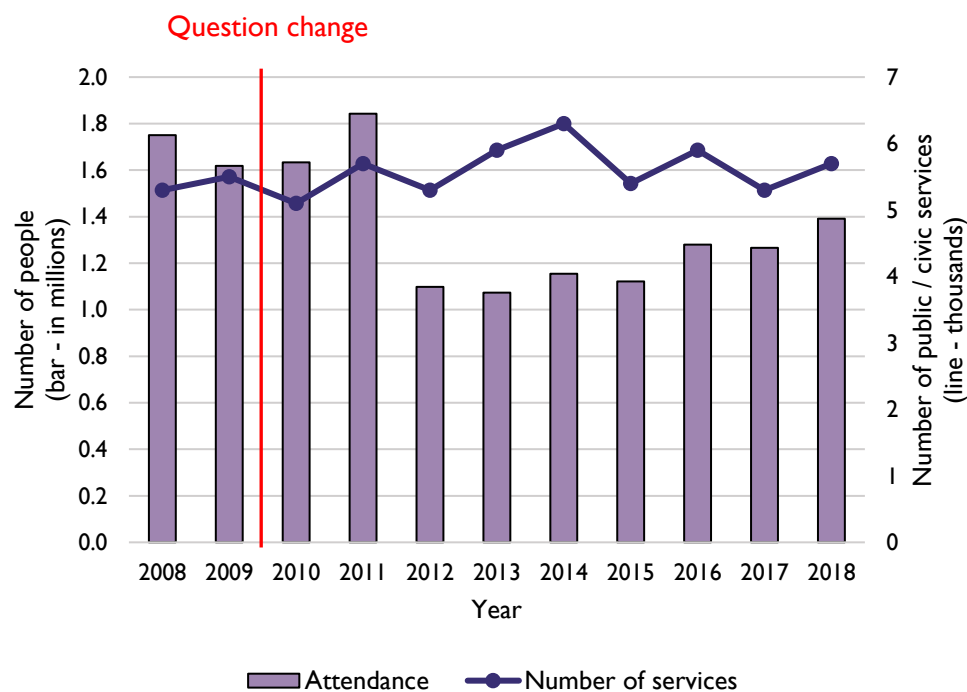

The total number of people reported at specially arranged services at Church of England cathedrals, shown in Figure 4³, decreased by 9% over the last 10 years, from just over 1 million attending in 2008 to just over 930,000 in 2018. The number of services fell from 3,100 in 2008 to 2,700 in 2018 (a decrease of 13%).

Attendance at specially arranged services in 2018 is broken down as follows: 176,000 people at 490 diocesan or episcopal services; 315,000 people at 520 specially arranged school services; 413,000 people at 1,400 other special services; 28,000 people at 260 services held away from the cathedral. Full breakdown of data for all special services over the last ten years (where recorded) can be found in Appendix I.

³ Before 2010, a total figure was provided for number and total attendance at special services. From 2010, school services and other special services were reported separately; from 2012 diocesan or episcopal services were reported separately; from 2014, data were collected on services held away from the cathedral buildings.

Figure 5 shows the total number of people reported annually at public or civic events, which includes graduation ceremonies, conferences, concerts and meetings. From 2010 onwards, data reported were broken down into graduation ceremonies and other events, whereas prior to 2010 only a total figure was reported.

Figure 5: Annual number of and total annual attendance at public / civic events at Church of England cathedrals, 2008-2018⁴

The total reported number of annual public / civic events in cathedrals in 2018 was 5,700, with a total attendance at these events of 1.39 million people, as shown in Figure 5. These are broken down as follows: 299,000 people at 320 graduation ceremonies; 1,092,000 people at 5,400 other public / civic events. A full breakdown from 2010 can be found in Appendix I.

Since being first reported in 2010, the attendance at other public / civic events from decreased from 1.3 million to 1.1 million in 2018, but the number of events has increased by around 500 a year. The significant drop in attendance between 2011 and 2012 may reflect cathedrals' greater realism in reporting attendance at large events. Attendance at graduation ceremonies has remained relatively stable year-on-year but numbers of ceremonies have risen from 260 in 2010 to 320 in 2018.

⁴ From 2010 onwards, data were reported broken down into graduation ceremonies and 'other' events. Prior to this, all public / civic events were grouped as one category.

Easter and Holy Week Attendance

Figure 6a shows the total number of people reported attending services at all Church of England cathedrals over Easter (including vigil services on Easter Eve). All data include adults, children and young people, clergy and laity, and the attendance figure includes both communicants and those that did not receive communion. Figure 6b shows attendance during Holy Week specified, since 2014, as the period from Palm Sunday to Good Friday. This information was first recorded in 2010 but without this clarification extra data may have been included in Holy Week prior to 2014; thus only data from 2014 onwards are shown.

In 2018, total reported attendance at Easter services was 58,000 people compared with 49,000 in 2008. There was a rise in attendance of 6,000 between 2017 and 2018. The number of Easter communicants has remained between 26,000 and 29,000 since 2008.

Total reported attendance during Holy Week in 2018 was 95,000, an increase of 6% from 89,000 in 2014 when it was first reported.

⁵ Reported consistently since 2014.

Christmas and Advent Attendance

Figure 7a shows the total number of people reported at all Church of England cathedrals on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day. All data include adults, children and young people, clergy and laity, and the attendance figure includes both communicants and those that did not receive communion. Figure 7b shows attendance during Advent which, since 2014, was specified as the period from Advent Sunday to 23 December. Prior to 2014 the definitions varied slightly from year to year meaning data may not be comparable; thus only data from 2014 onwards are shown.

In 2018, total Christmas attendance reported was 133,000 - the second highest figure since it was first recorded in 2000 (highest figure was 2017: 135,000). There were 33,000 communicants at Christmas in 2018.

Services during Advent, i.e. Advent Sunday to 23 December, reported attendance of 617,000 in 2018 compared with 631,000 in 2014 (when it was first reported). It should be noted that a number of comments from cathedrals suggest that increased Christmas attendance in 2017 may be due to Christmas Eve falling on a Sunday, and decreased Advent attendance in 2017 may be due to a shorter Advent period.

⁶ Reported consistently since 2014.

Occasional Offices

Baptisms and Thankgiving services

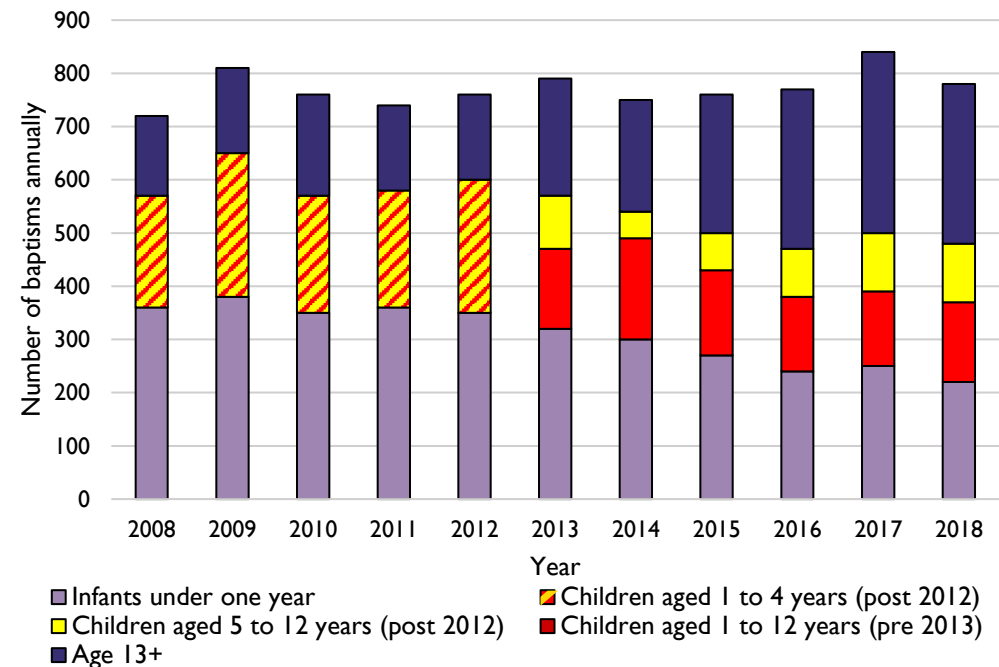

During 2018, there were a total of 770 baptisms and 10 thanksgivings conducted in all Church of England cathedrals. This means that there has been an increase of 8% in all baptisms over the last decade.

From 2013 onwards, baptisms of children aged 1-12 were split into two categories (aged 1-4 years; and 5-12 years old), after previously being grouped as one category – this change is reflected in Figure 8.

From 2014, thanksgiving questions were amended to ask about those aged under 1 year and 1-4 years old (after previously just asking for those aged under 1 year and those aged 1+); in 2018, additional categories were added to include those aged 5-12 years and 13+ that may have had a thanksgiving service.

Despite the overall increase, there has been a decrease of 39% in infant baptisms (children aged under 1 year) from 360 in 2008 to 220 in 2018. Baptisms of children aged 1 to 12 years have increased by 24% in 10 years, from 210 in 2007 to 260 in 2018. Therefore, the overall increase in baptisms is largely attributed to the increase in baptisms of those aged 13 years or more, which has doubled in the last ten years, from 150 in 2008 to 300 in 2018. Baptisms of those aged 13+ also accounted for the largest proportion of all baptisms for the third year in a row (39% in 2018), compared to just 21% 10 years ago in 2008 (where infants accounted for the largest proportion - 51% of all baptisms). In 2018, infants under 1 year and children aged 1 to 12 years accounted for 29% and 34% of all baptisms respectively. Full data for thanksgivings can be found in Appendix 1.

⁷ Question wording changed in 2013 to include more detailed age categories (aged 1-4 years and 5-12 years).

Marriage, Funeral and Memorial services

250 marriages were conducted in cathedrals during 2018, which is a decrease of 19% over the last 10 years. The number of blessings of marriage services in cathedrals fluctuates from year to year. The number of marriage services, shown in Figure 9, includes couples newly married in the relevant year, whilst blessings of marriage includes those services with prayer and dedication in the cathedral after a civil marriage, and does not include the renewal of vows.

The total number of funeral services, shown in Figure 10, is broken down by the number of services held in the cathedral and the number of services conducted on behalf of the cathedral at a crematorium or cemetery (excluding committal or burial of ashes only). In each case, funerals include those conducted on behalf of the cathedral or parish by any minister, including stipendiary, self-supporting and retired clergy. The number of memorial services (not including a funeral) held in cathedrals were first recorded in 2010 and are not included in the total funeral services figure; therefore data are shown separately in Figure 10.

⁸ Memorial services first recorded in 2010.

Visitors

The total number of visitors is shown in Figure 11. Visitors are defined as either people paying or donating at the point of entry or those who do not pay but possibly donate at alms box (excluding those who attend services and events). Prior to 2010, only the total number of visitors was reported. From 2010 onwards, visitors were recorded in two categories - those paying (either by donation or paying at point of entry) and those that did not pay (and excluding those attending services and events mentioned elsewhere in this report). Until 2012 some cathedrals were unable to provide broken down figures so only data from 2012 onwards are shown in this way.

In 2018, there were almost 10 million visitors reported by cathedrals. Over the last decade, there has been a small overall increase of 2% (200,000 people) from 9.6 million visitors in 2008 to 9.8 million in 2018.

Despite only a few cathedrals charging for entry, paying visitors accounted for 33% of all visitors (3.2 million people) to cathedrals in 2018.

⁹ From 2010, data were collected about payment upon entry, however until 2012 some cathedrals were unable to provide broken down figures.

Education

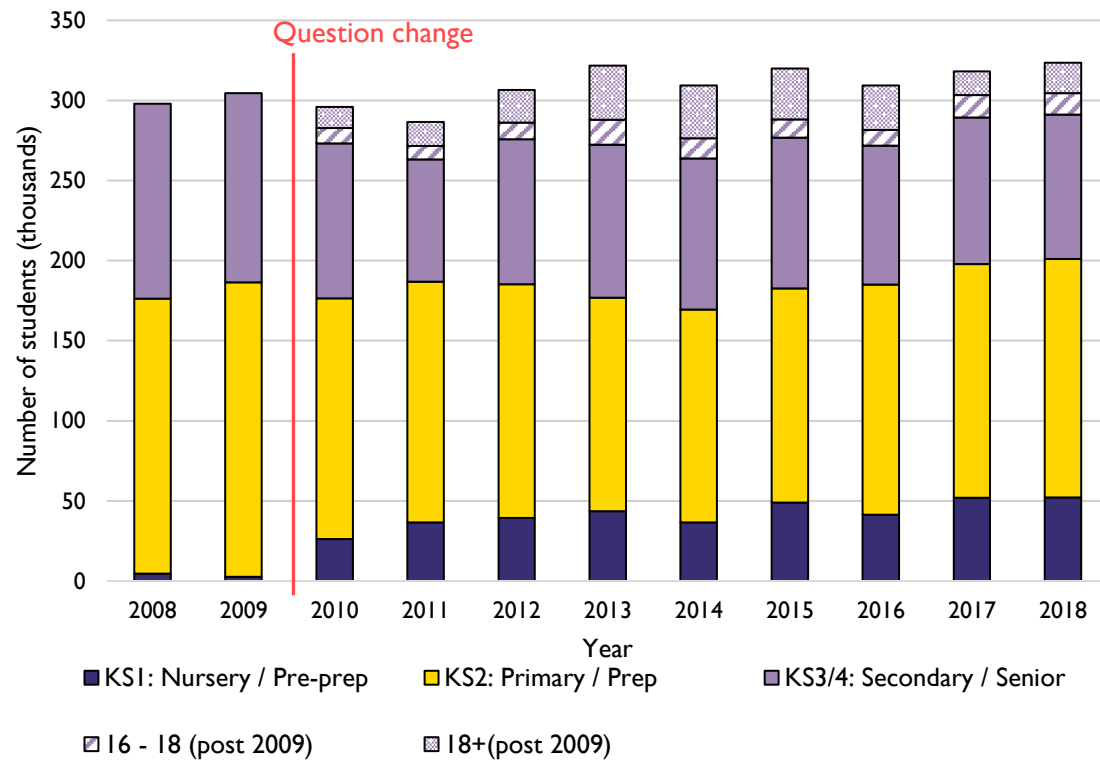

Educational events

Figure 12 shows the number of children/students attending organised educational events during the year, which took place either in the Cathedral or were organised by the Cathedral and took place elsewhere, broken down by age / year groups. Prior to 2010, the Secondary/Senior category included those aged 16-18 and 18+, but from 2010 these age groups were reported separately.

The total number of children and young people attending organised educational events in cathedrals in 2018 was 324,000. This was an increase of 9% over the last decade, from 298,000 in 2008. The largest proportion of these visits was made by Primary/prep school children, accounting for 46% (148,900) of all students in 2018, followed by 28% of visits by Secondary/Senior school children (90,100 children) in 2018.

Despite accounting for the largest proportions, over the last decade attendances of Primary and Secondary groups have declined, with the largest increase seen in Nursery/ Pre-prep, from 4,500 in 2008 to 52,100 in 2018.

Figure 12: Children and young people attending educational events at Church of England cathedrals (annually), 2008-2018¹⁰

¹⁰ Key Stage 1 (KS1): Ages 5-7 / Years 1 and 2; Key Stage 2 (KS2): Ages 7-11 / Years 3, 4, 5 and 6; Key Stage 3 (KS3): Ages 11-14 / Years 7, 8 and 9; Key Stage 4 (KS4): Ages 14-16 / Years 10 and 11; 16 – 18: those in further education such as in sixth form or college, for example Years 12, 13 and 14; 18+: those in higher education, for example university.

Cathedral schools

Figure 13 shows the proportion of students attending schools associated with Church of England cathedrals, broken down by age / year groups.

Due to the differing number of cathedrals reporting each year, proportions rather than actual figures are shown, to allow for year-on-year comparison; actual data are however available in Appendix I.

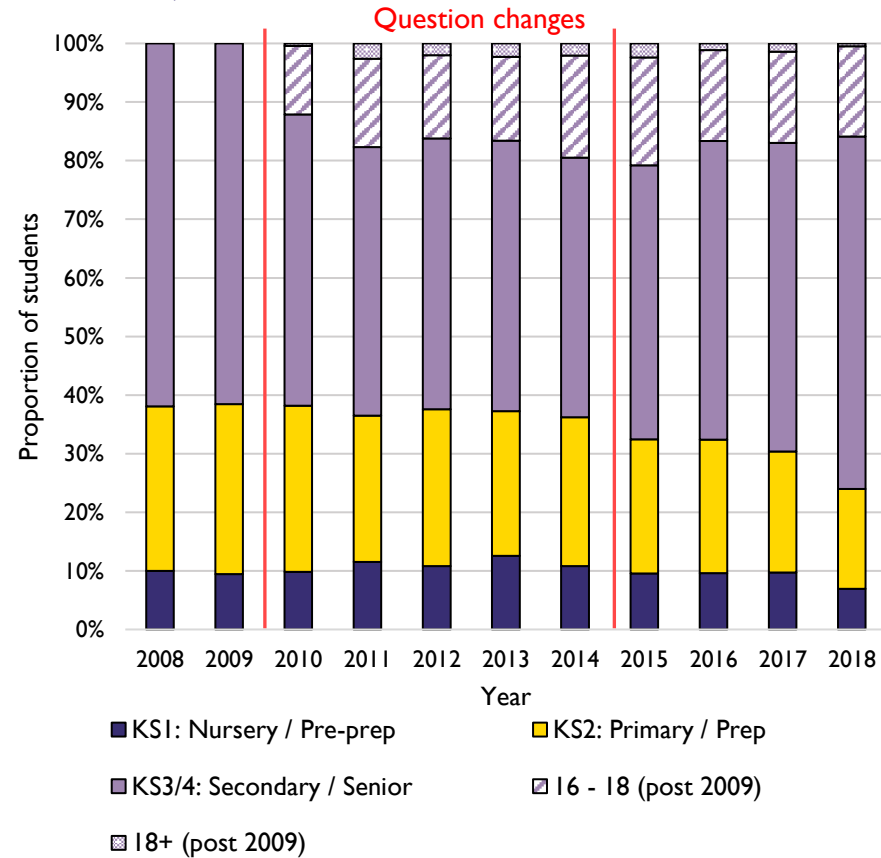

The data relate to schools or academies that are part of a cathedral foundation or have formal links/relationship with a cathedral during the academic year. From 2015, question wording was changed to clarify that this meant formal governance links.

As with Figure 13, until 2009 the Secondary/Senior category included ages 16-18 and 18+, from which point these age groups were reported separately. It should be noted that a larger number of cathedrals reported these data from 2015 onwards.

In 2018, 22,400 students were reported attending cathedral schools or schools formally associated with cathedrals. This section is based on the 25 cathedrals that reported data (greater than 0) for schools in 2018, which is an increase from the 18 cathedrals that provided data (greater than 0) in 2008.

The largest proportion of those attending cathedral schools in 2018 was at secondary / senior level, which accounted for 60% of all students reported and consistently accounts for the highest proportion of students every year. Primary / prep accounted for the next highest proportion in 2018 (17%), followed by 16-18 year olds (15%), nursery / pre-prep (7%) and 18+ (1%).

Cathedral activities and community engagement

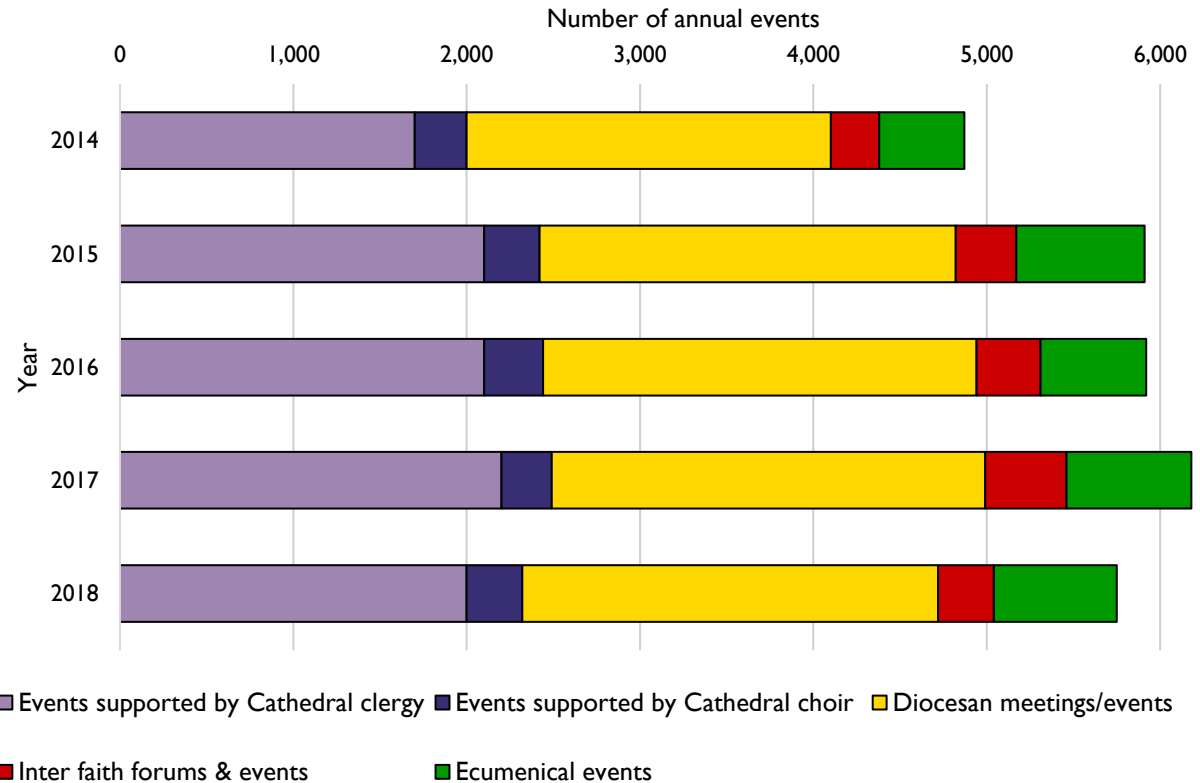

Activities of cathedral personnel

Figure 14 shows activities of Church of England cathedral personnel away from the cathedral itself, first reported in 2014. It should be noted that not all cathedrals responded to this question; details about numbers of respondents can be found in the data tables in Appendix 1.

In 2018, there were 2,500 reported occasions in which cathedral clergy, choirs, or staff participated in diocesan meetings/events; 710 reported occasions on which cathedral personnel participated in ecumenical events; and 320 reported occasions on which cathedral personnel participated in formal inter faith forums and events.

A further 320 events were supported by cathedral choirs, and 2,000 events / services were supported by clergy away from the cathedral. All data for 2018 were lower than those reported in 2017, except for events supported by cathedral choirs, which showed a small increase.

Figure 14: Activities of Church of England cathedral personnel, 2014-2018¹²

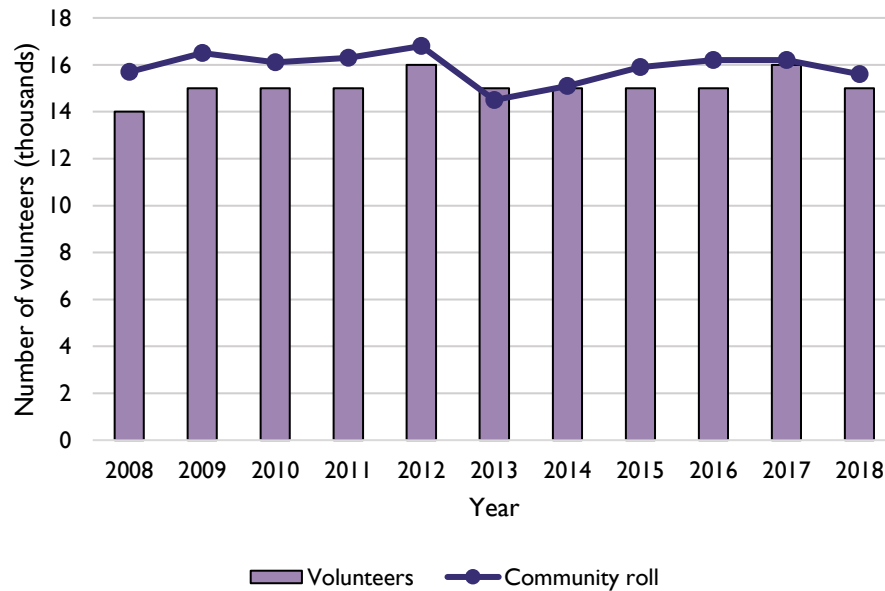

¹² First reported in 2014.

Volunteers and Community Roll

Figure 15 shows the total number of people volunteering at Church of England cathedrals (including servers, welcomers, stewards, flower arrangers, committee members and other unpaid posts). The number of people on the cathedral Community Roll is also shown in Figure 15 for comparison. Lay members aged 16 years and over, who are baptised and are resident in the cathedral parish or, if not resident, have habitually attended public worship in the cathedral during a period of six months prior to enrolment, are entitled to have their names entered upon the roll of a cathedral. The Community Roll was last renewed in 2013, which may account for the notable change between 2012 and 2013.

There were 15,000 people reported as volunteers in cathedrals during 2018. Volunteer numbers and Community Roll have both remained relatively stable over the last decade.

¹³ Community Roll was last renewed in 2013.

Music in Cathedrals

Choristers and voluntary choir members

Figure 16 shows numbers of Choristers in Church of England cathedrals, broken down by youth choirs (boys and girls) and adult choirs (men and women). Prior to 2013, only the total adult Lay Clerks / Choral Scholars figures were recorded, and from 2013 split into men and women.

From 2010 onwards, cathedrals were asked to record those in voluntary choirs at Church of England cathedrals, which is shown in Figure 17 and again is broken down by youth (boy and girls) and adult (men and women) choirs.

¹⁴ Prior to 2013, only the total adult Lay Clerks / Choral Scholars figures were recorded; from 2013 this was split into men and women.

¹⁵ Voluntary choir members recorded from 2010 onwards.

In 2018, 1,500 total youth choristers and 540 lay clerks / choral scholars (i.e. adults) were reported as providing choral music for cathedrals. The total number of choristers and choir members across all ages has not changed since 2015 (2,000) and, despite some fluctuation over last 10 years, is the same total as reported in 2008. There were similar numbers of boy and girl choristers (740) in 2018 whereas in 2008 there were 100 more boy choristers than girl choristers. The number of adult choristers has increased from 470 in 2008 to 540 in 2018. Since 2010, when voluntary choirs were first reported, to 2018, there has been a reported decrease in members of around 100.

Voluntary choirs in 2018 reported slightly fewer members (1,800 in total) than in cathedral choirs (2,000), and proportionally were made up of more adults (72%) than in cathedral choirs (27%). In particular, volunteer choirs were made up of more women than cathedral choirs; 44% of all members in volunteer choirs were women in 2018, compared to just 4% in cathedral choirs.

Number of choirs

In 2012, additional questions were introduced asking for total choirs (rather than just members), broken down by male, female and mixed choirs. From 2013 onwards, visiting choirs were also added to the question, as is reflected in Figure 18b.

In 2018, the numbers of male, female and mixed choirs in cathedrals were reported at 40, 30 and 80 respectively. The number of visiting choirs in 2018 was reported at 910; an increase of 7% from when they were first reported in 2013.

Musicians

Table 1 shows the number of musicians in Church of England cathedrals, broken down by whether they are regular or occasional. They are also further broken down by age and gender. The data were first reported in 2013 but split into two categories from 2014 onwards (regular and occasional).

Comparison with previous years' musicians data is not advised due to potential data quality issues; however the 2018 data collection form was amended and clarified to address this issue for the future.

Table 1: Number of musicians in Church of England cathedrals, 2018

Regular	Boys	50
	Girls	40
	Male	150
	Female	30
	Total	280
Occasional	Boys	180
	Girls	180
	Male	660
	Female	440
	Total	1,460

Westminster Abbey 2018: <5 adult (male) and <5 adult (female) regular musicians; no occasional musicians.

Sodor and Man 2018: <5 adult (male) and <5 child (girl) regular musicians; <5 adult (female) occasional musicians.

In 2018, a total of 280 regular and 1,460 occasional musicians were reported as being involved in services at Church of England cathedrals. In terms of regular musicians, girls and boys accounted for around 32%, whilst adults accounted for 68%. Adults also accounted for over three quarters of all reported occasional musicians (77%).

Appendix I: Data Tables

All data are rounded to the nearest 10 or 100, where appropriate. Where data are greater than zero but fewer than 5, “<5” is shown. Totals are calculated from unrounded data and are shown in bold. Data for previous years may have been updated since earlier reports, due to re-estimation. Data for Westminster Abbey and the Diocese of Sodor and Man are not included in tabular totals but disclosed by way of footnotes.

Sodor and Man 2018: Midweek attendance – 20 adults (no children); Sunday attendance - 80 adults and 20 children.

Average weekly attendance at normal services held by cathedrals either on Sunday or midweek. Includes attendance at services that are not major festivals or contained in a peak holiday period. Persons attending more than one service on the same day were, wherever possible, counted only once no matter how many services they attended.

Midweek count includes services held Monday – Saturday.

Table 3: Total annual attendance at regular services at Church of England cathedrals, 2013-2018

2018	6,600	341,300	244,300	592,000

Westminster Abbey 2018: 84,800 annual attendance at regular schools' services, and no fresh expressions of Church or other regular services attendance.
 Sodor and Man 2018: 1,700 annual attendance at regular schools' services, and no fresh expressions of Church or other regular services attendance.

Numbers in attendance at regular services are not included in average weekly attendance figures in Table 3, as they are not part of the weekly calendar of services.

The wording of the question asking about regular services was changed in 2013 to ensure the weekly pattern of services was not included. This resulted in a reduced total, hence only data for 2013 onwards are shown in Table 3.

Christmas includes all services on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day.

From 2014 onwards, Advent was specified to be the period from Advent Sunday to 23rd December. Data before 2014 therefore may include extra figures and hence only 2014 onwards are shown.

Total attendance includes the total number of people reported to have attended worship, both communicants and those that did not take communion, adults, children and young people, clergy and laity.

A number of comments from cathedrals, provided with their returns, suggest that increased attendance in 2017 may have been due to Christmas Eve falling on a Sunday, and decreased Advent attendance in 2017 may be due to a shorter Advent period.

Methodology

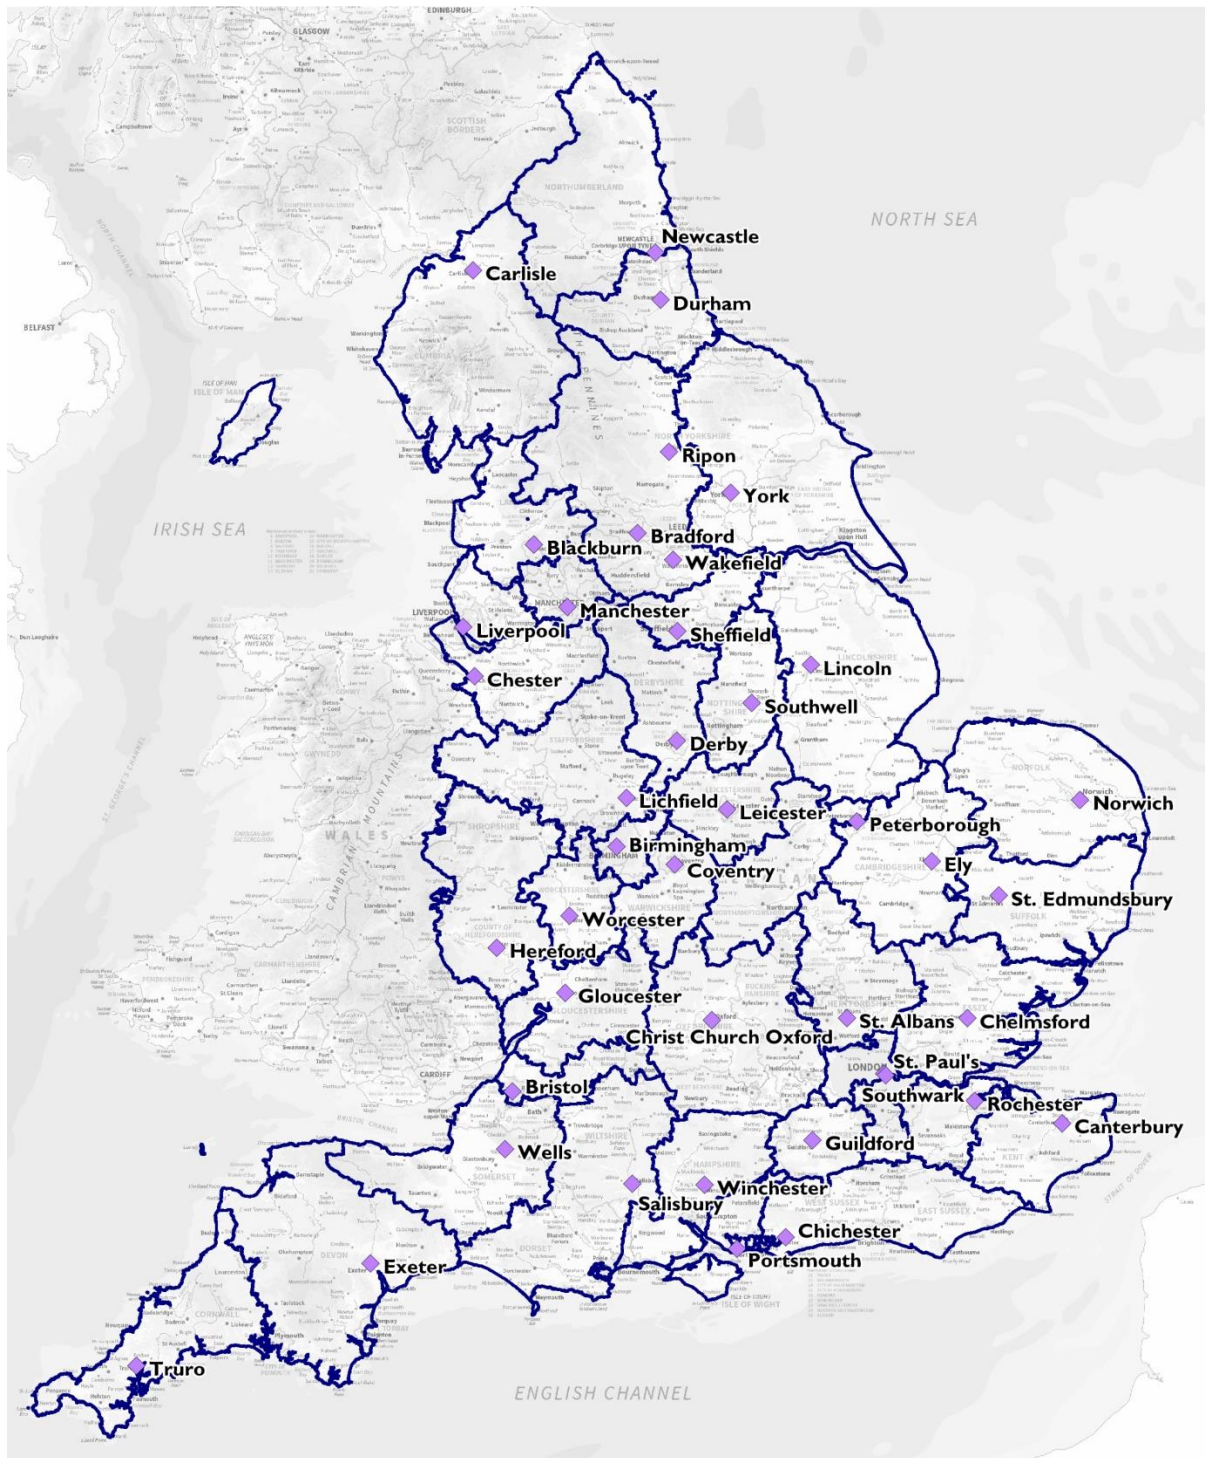

There are 42 Church of England cathedrals in mainland England, listed below, all of which participated in this exercise along with Westminster Abbey (which is not a cathedral, but a Royal Peculiar) and, for the first time, Peel Cathedral (Diocese of Sodor and Man). Figure 9 on the next page shows the location of all participating cathedrals from which data have been aggregated to show the totals reported in Figures 1 to 18 (names listed below, with diocese name in brackets if not already in the name of the cathedral). Peel Cathedral and Westminster Abbey are not shown on Figure 19 because data from them are reported separately via footnotes accompanying tables 1 to 18.

Wells Cathedral (Bath and Wells diocese)	Guildford Cathedral	Cathedral & Abbey Church of Saint Alban (St. Albans diocese)
Birmingham Cathedral	Hereford Cathedral	St Edmundsbury Cathedral (St. Edmundsbury & Ipswich diocese)

Data in this report have been collated from the annual cathedral returns completed each year by Head Vergers/Cathedral Administrators and Deans. The form in Appendix 2 was sent electronically to all Church of England cathedrals, and Westminster Abbey, in autumn 2018. Data were checked upon the form being returned, and any anomalies or missing data queried directly with the cathedral and amended where necessary. In the case of no response from the query, estimation was carried out based on previous years data for attendance measures, whilst blank fields were taken as zeros for all other measures. Where data had been missing in 2017 but provided for 2018, previous estimation was updated using an average of the surrounding years. While all figures in this report have been rounded to the most relevant significant figures, totals and averages were calculated before rounding, thus row and column totals will not always agree exactly with the sum of the stated amounts. Where data are smaller than 5 (but greater than zero), <5 is shown in the tables, rather than the actual number.

As has been the case since 2016, all visitor figures in this report are taken from the returns provided by cathedrals themselves and not from external sources; in reports prior to 2016, visitor figures for Canterbury, London, Westminster Abbey and, prior to 2011, York Minster, were taken from www.alva.org.uk.
