applies to the Commission for approval of the following proposal: short description:

To conserve: Mr William Shakespeare’s Comedies, Histories and Tragedies, 4th Folio (1685)

Summary of the nature of work and its extent (and materials) [or in the case of an object, a short description of it and details of the proposal]

- Clean and repair the textblock as necessary
- Locally humidify and flatten the title page, avoiding the heavily inked area
- Repair any splits to the heavily inked area with lightweight remoistenable tissue. Ideally the wove paper support would be removed but this may cause further damage to the fragile degraded area
- Remove reback, saving the label; remove as much of the spine adhesive as possible to increase flexibility
- Reinforce sewing structure with braids, using the slips to increase board attachment
- Line the spine between the bands with aerolinen, using the width extensions to increase the strength of the board attachment
- Reback in a suitable texture and toned tanned leather, packing out the join between the reback and the sides to reduce the current stepped effect
- Replace the leather label
- Sew new replacement endbands
- House in a kasemake box

applies to the Commission for approval of the following proposal:

Conservation of 1618 Grant of certain rights in the Forest of Dean by King James I to Richard Brayne, John Hill, John Dewe, Christopher Bund and others including an almost intact Great Seal.
This work would include:
Surface cleaning of the membranes.
Localised humidification and flattening of the parchment using magnets.
Consolidation of the seal cord and seal.
Creation of bespoke archival packaging.

Summary of the nature of work and its extent (and materials) [or in the case of an object, a short description of it and details of the proposal]

Hereford Cathedral Library and Archives hold a 1618 document with an almost complete example of the Great Seal. The document and seal are overall in reasonable condition, but the document has in the past been rolled too tightly and now would benefit from conservation treatment to prevent risk of damage from future handling. This would enable it to be safely stored in Hereford Cathedral’s strongroom, and also enable it to be more easily produced for researchers or displayed in exhibition.

Proposed works include surface cleaning, localised humidification and flattening of the parchment, consolidation of the seal and cord, rerolling document around a central support tube, whole to be placed in a bespoke archival quality box with plastazote lining and well to accommodate the seal and cord.

We propose to use Herefordshire Archive Service’s Conservation team with their use of magnets for a slower relaxation that will treat the creasing and folds. The document will remain local – within the city.

The Proposal

To install two glass panels in the archway into the Lady Chapel ante chapel, in association with the general refurbishment of the space.

Summary of the nature of the work and its extent (and materials) [or in the case of an object, a short description of it and details of the proposal]

Two glass screens designed by artist Sarah Galloway to be installed within the arch into the Lady Chapel ante chapel. 17mm thick glass (two lamination of 8mm) held in place with stainless steel D clamps, covered with bronze leaf motifs. Within the space the masonry will be cleaned and re-pointed, new lighting introduced, a radiator covered re-waxed, existing timber cupboards repaired and re-oiled, a new bench introduced around the central stone column (oak slatted seat supported by polished bronze ‘legs’). Note that the bench is effectively free standing and not mechanically fixed to the wall or floor.
